FAREWELL

As we come to the end of the 2010 ANC, we can congratulate all the winners, commiserate with all those who didn't do as well as they had hoped, but glad that we were all able to be here.

On behalf of the Tasmanian Bridge Association, we would like to thank you all for participating and hope that it has been an enjoyable experience. The weather has been kind, the view from the table was great, and those lucky enough to see the dolphins playing by the pier have had the ultimate bridge tournament.

Happy bridging for the rest of the year, and good luck to the Victorian Bridge Association for the ANC in 2011.

OPEN BUTLER FINAL

Completing a week of strong form which has seen them at or near the top for much of the event, Ron Klinger–Matt Mullamphy ended more than a match clear of second.

We wish them well in Philadelphia, where they will compete in the World Championships—I am sure the $4,000 subsidy from the ABF for the pairs winning the three Butler events will come in handy.

WOMEN'S BUTLER

The Women's Butler had a much more exciting finish, with the leaders for several rounds, Pauline Evans—Nevena Djurovic facing fast-finishing Sue Lusk—Therese Tully in the last round.

This was a nervous round for Pauline and Nevena, especially with yours truly watching proceedings. However, while they lost the match 18-12, it was still enough to put them comfortably on the plane to Philadelphia. Their score of 354 over 19 rounds is a truly creditable performance, and I wish them all the best for the future. I watched the winning pair on quite a few occasions, and I might try out some of their bidding treatments, which I thought were quite effective—Standard with a Polish-style ♣ and transfer responses, for example.

I have known Pauline for many years, and have always admired her table presence. She has been a very proactive captain of women's teams over the years, so it is great to see her achieve this win after a long event of steady, solid bridge.

Go, Pauline and Nevena!
