Solution to Yesterday's Problem

The hands:

	♠ 10 8 7
	♥ Q 9 8
	♦ J 8 7 5 4
	♣ 7 8
♠ K J 6 5		♠ A Q 9 4 3 2
♥ 4 3 2		♥ 7
♦ 9 2		♦ 10 6 3
♣ K J 10 9		♣ 5 4 3
	♥ A K J 10 6 5
	♦ A K Q
	♣ A Q 6 2

Contract : 6H. West leads ♥ 2.

Take the first Heart lead in dummy. Play a spade and discard ♦A in your hand. Any return can be taken by declarer. Draw one more trump. After playing ♦K and ♦Q, draw the last trump by leading to the ♥Q in dummy. The three diamonds in dummy will take care of your losing Clubs.

Assumptions to be made:

- Hearts are no worse than 3-1
- Diamonds are 3-2

And Now Some Light Relief

A dear old lady found herself playing in a teams match against two very famous Grand Masters. Her partner was also a distinguished Grand Master. Feeling considerably outclassed, she spent the entire match praying for 4-3-3-3 yarboroughs, so she would not have to make any decisions and could not be criticized in front of kibiters for getting a decision wrong. She also worked very hard in the bidding to ensure that her famous partner played all the hands.

She was reasonably successful with her 'relay' system until this monster came along:

♠ A K Q    ♥ A 6    ♦ K Q J 10 9 8    ♣ A K

She and her partner were playing Benjamin Twos and in this method she had an automatic 2 Diamond opening which promises a hand of 23 points or more, or at least enough for game in one's own hand. However, she figured that if she did open 2 Diamonds, it was highly likely that the final contract could be 5, 6 or even 7 Diamonds and then she would have to play the hand.

Therefore she rejected the 2 Diamond opening and instead opened 2 Clubs which showed around 19-22 points, about 8 – 9 playing tricks. This ploy was in anticipation of her partner bidding the 2 Diamond negative reply, in which case he would end up as declarer if the final contract happened to be in diamonds.

However, the contract turned out to be 6 Spades, played by her partner. After the lead was made and she tabled this gigantic dummy, the Grand Master on her right stared at Dummy goggle-eyed and exclaimed: "Good grief! That's the biggest eight- playing trick hand I have ever seen What do you need to open with 2 Diamonds?"

Her reply: "Weaker opponents."

For Light Relief

A very old Bridge player, anything but pleasant at the table, finally died. Sometime later a bridge crony of his is also passed on and was sent to hell. On arriving he saw his old friend with his white hair and his beard seated at a Bridge table opposite the most gorgeous girl he had ever seen.

"Old man, good to see you! But I don't understand. Here you are in hell and you're playing Bridge. Not only that, but your partner is the most beautiful, the most voluptuous creature I have ever seen. How can this be?"

"Sshh!" said the old Bridge player.

"Actually, I'm her punishment."

If you play Bridge with your wife as partner, you need at least 20 points to open, and it wouldn't hurt to have 25.....

Alfred Sheinwold

South: Alert!

East: Yes?

South: I'm requested to further mis-describe my hand.
